The Quarterly Review is a magazine written in the popular vein in English, devoted exclusively to Polish and Polish-American culture. Although not technical or academic, it maintains the highest of artistic and editorial standards. We believe there is a need to tell the American public about the many cultural contributions of Poles and those of Polish descent; The Quarterly Review is an effort to fill that need.

We depend heavily on subscription revenue for funds to expand and improve this magazine. Your interest and your subscription are invited.

Write for a free sample copy. The annual subscription is $3.00 ($5.00 for two years).
